Description: We're currently hiring, and looking for externs, interns, and associate veterinarians. Alvarado Veterinary Clinic (AVC) is a privately owned hospital, opened in 1981, to serve the mixed-animal needs of the Johnson County Area. We're a true mixed-animal hospital, with over 50 employees, who take pride in our work and remember to have fun. As we've grown, we've worked hard to maintain a family-based hospital that cares and supports each other. Our commitment to mentorship is evident by over 20 years of active externships, with approximately 40-50 externs visiting the clinic per year. AVC created the first mixed-animal internship ever offered through the VIRMP in 2012, with 49 interns having joined the program. We also enjoy partnering with upcoming veterinary students and make every effort to have an open door policy to any veterinary student from Texas A&M. This year, we're proud to have welcomed 2 veterinarians to our team from Texas A&M—Dr. Rachel Henson and Dr. Brianna Rackley. They're doing an amazing job and would welcome any questions you may have about AVC. We look forward to meeting with as many of you as possible, especially those as passionate about the profession as we are!

Description: Animal Hospital of Rowlett (AHR) is like a mullet: business in the front and party in the back! We know when to turn on our “educational voice,” but when we are out of the client’s sight, you may see us rapping all the words to some 90s hip-hop or doing inappropriate dances, while someone is trying to place a catheter—just to see if they can handle the pressure! ;) We cater to our clients and want to be sure they leave understanding our tailored recommendations, but we also want them to know our practice is not “stuffy.” They can be educated with a margarita or glass of wine in their hand from our bar cart. We have a great team and everyone gets along. We like to have fun, but we also know when to put on our serious pants. We’d love to show you what we’re all about—that veterinary medicine can be fun! We’re AAHA-accredited and a Gold Level Cat Friendly practice. We’re open M–F 7 a.m.–7 p.m. with rotating Saturday shifts, 8 a.m.–2 p.m. DVMs have a 4-day work week. 32 hours per week is considered full time with benefits, including 4 weeks vacation, paid CE, and time off for CE. No emergency calls, no after-hours, and no Sun. Ultrasound, surgery, orthopedics, endoscopy, in-house lab, etc.

Description: We would welcome a small animal or a mixed-animal veterinarian. Our practice philosophy centers around friendly service and quality medicine. We have digital rads, Lasercyte CBC machine, Idexx Catalyst chemistry machine, ECG, plus a multitude of other diagnostic tests. We do refer cases out, but we try to do all we can here (fracture repair, cystotomies, pyometra, hernia repair, c-sections, laceration repair, etc.). Although we primarily see dogs and cats, we also see horses, cows, goats, and an occasional pig. Our willingness to do house and farm calls results in our being able to practice large animal medicine with some frequency. We also have a horse barn with stocks and a cattle handling facility with a squeeze chute. Emergency calls are shared equally. We're a great practice for someone eager to learn diverse medicine in a mixed-animal clinic.

Description: We're a very well-equipped, full service, privately owned, small animal practice located in Leon Springs, a rapidly expanding suburban community between San Antonio and Boerne. With 5 full-time veterinarians and a support staff of over 20 employees, we maintain a brisk, but enjoyable work schedule. Our practice is currently undergoing an expansion, scheduled to be completed by the end of the year. Once finished, we'll have 12 exam rooms, 2 surgery suites, a dedicated dental suite, ICU, treatment and recovery areas, as well as extra office space and a large conference room and library. We value work-life balance and a culture that enhances a rewarding workplace experience. For veterinary students seeking in-clinic experience or externships, we offer very hands-on (read bloody) surgical opportunities and medical case works-ups. Students should expect to be involved in SOAP-ing (subjective, objective, assessment, and plan) medical cases and reviewing pertinent literature when appropriate. We'll almost certainly be looking to add a sixth, new graduate veterinarian from either the class of 2025 or 2026. If you'd like to speak with us about possible future employment or student experience opportunities, please come visit with us at the Veterinary Job & Externship Fair, or contact us directly by email.

We walk the talk with proactive, structured mentoring for veterinarians joining our practices. While the "promise" of mentoring rings hollow with many joining our profession, you will find the launch of your career at our practice full of support and structure. We've taken a proven plan for onboarding and modified it to fit our practice. During the mentorship phase of your launch, we will focus on medicine, surgery, and communications, plus the systems, operations and flow of our practice. "Infinite PawsAbilities" is our veterinary rehab practice, where we offer full rehab options such as underwater treadmill, stem cell therapy, shock wave, MSK ultrasound, and exercises through a doctor who is a CCRP and acupuncture practitioner.

ELAC is woman-owned, women-run and non-corporate, and we are looking for an additional veterinarian to join our team. Description: FEPC is a 24/7/365 emergency practice limited to dogs and cats. We are (and always will be) independent, and have a strong, positive practice culture based on compassion, integrity, and teamwork. Emergency work requires long shifts and can be emotionally draining, so we make sure everyone has the support they need and the time off to live their lives. Work-life harmony is important! We have full in-house diagnostics, including blood analyzers and digital radiography and ultrasonography, and just added 3D CT this year with our new facility. This new facility is 12,500 sq. ft. of emergency-only care (there are plenty of specialists in the area), and we are proud that most of the expansion was focused on making our team members' jobs easier, from radically increasing the size and scope of isolation to the indoor walking area. Liquid oxygen out back makes high-flow oxygen therapy possible. Education is important to us, so much so that we actually built extern quarters into the new hospital! We happily take a few veterinary student externs every year, and can also house social work interns (our licensed social worker oversees this program—the only school of social work in the country that includes veterinary medicine in the curriculum is at the University of Tennessee, so they need internship spots across the country).

We see dogs and cats mostly, but also a fair number of rabbits, guinea pigs, rats, hamsters, leopard geckos, and bearded dragons. We're open M-F with infrequent overnight hospitalizations. We see a good amount of medical workups, teeth cleanings and treatments, soft tissue surgeries, therapeutic laser, and dermatological care. People come to us by referral or convenience, but they come back to us because of our kindness, listening skills, and effectiveness. I have enough client demand for a second full-time veterinarian, but I'm open to making a 3-day schedule work. Description: What is “quality” veterinary care? Is it a state-of-the-art hospital or a long list of services? Is it a full staff of educated, highly skilled professionals? At Mission Veterinary Hospital, we believe it’s all of this—and so much more. Most importantly, we believe that quality veterinary care starts with relationships. It starts with our staff members getting to know the names of our clients and bonding with their pets. It’s about being there—to answer questions and quell concerns. It’s about friendships, camaraderie, and lifelong partnerships. This is our philosophy and it’s what makes our practice so different from others in the Mission area. Our clients and patients are more than just numbers or appointments in the books. We treat their pets as if they were our very own. The reason why we’re so different is because, rather than drawing from our education and experience, our staff focuses on what’s most important: the passion we have for improving the lives of animals and the people who love them. We truly care about everyone that walks through our clinic door, whether two-legged or four. It’s that genuine care and concern that draws clients in and makes them want to partner with us, year after year, through generations of pets. More importantly, we focus on delivering that care in a way that builds trust and establishes relationships.

We believe in creating a holistic approach, providing our team with outstanding financial, mental, emotional, and social well-being. Our doctors highlight the following as top reasons they love working for us: gratitude and appreciation in every single appointment; sunshine and a sense of freedom outside of a 4-wall clinic; flexibility with 1- to 5-day work week options; most appointments occur 9 a.m.–6 p.m.; the ability to focus on the one patient that is in front of you; no walk-in emergencies; same-day appointments must fit in with the day's schedule and route, allowing for a more structured schedule; and no staying at the office after-hours to do paperwork—complete your notes between appointments, allowing you to go home when you're finished with your last patient of the day. We're veterinarians and we understand the high-pressure environment, so we prioritize flexibility, work-life balance, and mental health.

Description: UrgentVet provides immediate relief for mild illnesses and minor injuries that occur in dogs and cats. We're a bridge between regular veterinarians and the overnight ER. We're open every day of the year, and we're proud to offer pet parents savings of up to 40% less than regular pet emergency hospitals. Common conditions treated include vomiting, diarrhea, lameness, urinary tract disease, skin and ear conditions, eye problems, lacerations, scrapes, respiratory ailments, and stomach concerns. Online check-in is offered and we also accept walk-ins. When you first arrive, you'll notice the waiting room isn't crowded. That's because we prefer pets and pet parents stay together during their visit. For those times when rooms are occupied, seating is spread out around the perimeter for privacy and comfort. Visiting the vet can be a scary experience. Our clinics are designed for a calm experience for the pet and pet parent. We have 5 or 6 species and size-specific exam rooms, along with a comfort room with a separate exit. Other creature comforts are non-slip flooring, dimmable lighting, soothing colors, soft music, calming pheromones, and quiet exam lift tables. Staff are Fear-Free trained—ready to take care of the pet's physical and emotional needs. The central treatment area has an in-house laboratory and state-of-the-art equipment—including digital radiography and ultrasound. 90% of patients are treated on-site and follow up with their primary care veterinarian.

Our practice area extends from Corpus Christi to Laredo and from San Antonio to Brownsville. Our 2 clinics are located in Alice and Premont. We have an almost purely mixed-animal practice. We routinely work with horses, cattle, cats, dogs, sheep, goats, pigs, deer, various types of exotic game, and even pocket pets. We run our business based on principles of the gospel and believe in being ethical, honest, moral, virtuous, charitable, kind, empathetic, respectful, and loving. We believe families, mothers, fathers, and children are special and important. We consider each other family and have each other's back. Respectful Communication—We believe, while the roles that we fill may be different, our value is equal and as such, everyone deserves respect. Quality—To provide the highest quality medicine, we believe in constantly learning and improving ourselves. Responsibility and Accountability—We hold each other accountable, but most importantly we hold ourselves accountable. Having core values does not mean we don't make mistakes, it means that we hold ourselves accountable and allow others to hold us accountable, too.

We have a 4,500 sq. ft. facility, featuring a 10-stall barn with 2 isolation stalls, 5 outpatient stalls, a reproductive center with a dedicated foaling facility, and 7 additional stalls and turn-out paddocks for hospitalized cases. We have 3 exam rooms for diagnostic or routine procedures including endoscopy, digital radiology, ultrasonography, and shockwave; a surgery suite available for a wide range of routine or emergency surgical procedures; in-house laboratory and pharmacy, and 2 riding arenas featuring varied surfaces for lameness and neurologic evaluations. We also maintain a fleet of fully-equipped ambulatory vehicles that provide services including radiography, dentistry, ultrasonography, shockwave therapy, and many other procedures.
